CHAPTER XV.

“All people I ever knew Elizabeth Brower had the surest eye for looking into one's soul, and I myself have some gift of penetration. I knew shortly that Mrs. Brower, wise and prudent woman that she was, had suspected my love for Hope and her love for me and had told her what she ought to say if I spoke of it.

The maturity of judgment in Hope's answer must have been the result of much thought and counsel, it seemed to me.

“If you do not speak again I shall know you do not love me any longer,” she had said. They were brave words that stood for something very deep in the character of these people—a self repression that was sublime, often in their women. As I said them to myself those lonely summer days in Faraway I saw in their sweet significance no hint of the bitterness they were to bring. But God knows I have had my share of pleasure and no more bitterness than I deserved.

It was a lonely summer for me. I had letters from Hope—ten of them—which I still keep and read, often with something of the old pleasure—girlish letters that told of her work and friends and gave me some sweet counsel and much assurance between the lines.

I traveled in new roads that vacation time. Politics and religion as well as love began to interest me. Slavery was looming into the proportion of a great issue, and the stories of cruelty and outrage on the plantations of the south stirred my young blood and made it ready for the letting of battle in God's time. The speeches in the senate were read aloud in our sitting room after supper the day the Tribune came, and all lent a tongue to their discussion.

Jed Feary was with us one evening. I remember, when our talk turned into long ways, the end of which I have never found to this day. Elizabeth had been reading of a slave who, according to the paper, had been whipped to death.

“If God knows 'at such things are been done, why don't he stop 'em?” David asked.

“Can't he very well,” said Jed Feary. “That's a bad word, a dangerous one,” said the old poet, dropping his dialect as he spoke. “It makes God responsible for evil as well as good. The word carries us beyond our depth. It's too big for our boots. I'd rather think he can do what's doable an' know what's knowable. In the beginning he gave laws to the world, an' these laws are unchangeable, or they are not wise and perfect. If God were to change them he would thereby acknowledge their imperfection. By this law men and races suffer as they struggle upward. But if the law is unchangeable can it be changed for a better cause even than the relief of a whipped slave? In good time the law shall punish and relieve. The groans of them that suffer shall hasten it, but there shall be no change in the law. There can be no change in the law.”

“Let's hard 't tell jest how powerful God is,” said Uncle Eb. “Good deal like tryin' 't weigh Lake Champlain with a quart pail an' a pair o' steel-yards.”

“If God's laws are unchangeable what is the use of praying?” I asked.

“He can give us the strength to bear, the will to obey him an' light to guide us,” said the poet.

Hope returned for a few days late in August. Invitations were just issued for the harvest dance at Rickard's.

“You must take 'er,” said Uncle Eb the day she came. “She's a purty dancer as a man ever see. France right up an' tell 'er she mus' go. Don't want to let any one get ahead o' ye.”

“Of course I will go,” she said in answer to my invitation. “I shouldn't think you were a leau worth having if you did not ask me.”

The yellow moon was peering over Woody ledge when we went away that evening. I knew it was our last pleasure seeking in Faraway, and the cricket-ets in the stubble filled the silence with a kind of mourning.

She looked so fine in her big hat and new gown with its many dainty accessories of lace and ribbon, adjusted with so much patting and pulling, that as she sat beside me I hardly dared touch her for fear of spoiling something. When she shivered a little and said it was growing cool I put my arm about her, and as I drew her closer to my side she turned her hat obligingly and said it was a great nuisance.

I tried to kiss her then, but she put her hand over my mouth and said sweetly that I would spoil everything if I did that.

“I must not let you kiss me, William,” she said. “Not—not for all in the world. I'm sure you wouldn't have me do what I think is wrong—would you?”

There was but one answer to such an appeal, and I made myself as happy as possible feeling her head upon my shoulder and her soft hair touching my cheek. As I think of it now the trust she put in me was something sublime and holy.

“Then I shall talk about—about our love,” I said. “I must do something.” “Promised I wouldn't let you,” she said. Then she added, after a moment of silence: “I'll tell you what you may do. Tell me what is your ideal in a woman—the one you would love best of all. I don't think that would be wicked, do you?”

“I think God would forgive that,” I said. “She must be tall and slim, with dainty feet and hands and a pair of big eyes, blue as a violet, shaded with long dark lashes. And her hair must be wavy and light, with a little tinge of gold in it. And her cheek must have the pink of the rose and dimples that show in laughter. And her voice—that must have music in it and the ring of kindness and good nature. And her lips—let them show the crimson of her blood and be ready to give and receive a kiss when I meet her.”

She sighed and nestled closer to me. “If I let you kiss me just once,” she whispered, “you will not ask me again, will you?”

“No, sweetheart, I will not,” I answered. Then we gave each other such a kiss as may be known once and only once in a lifetime.

“What would you do for the love of a girl like that?” she whispered.

Interior Department Criticized. Mrs. Nation is in prison awaiting the decision of an appeal to the district court for joint smashing.

Italians Go on Strike. Lancaster, Pa., April 11.—One hundred Italians employed on the new line of railroad which the Pennsylvania railroad is building through the southern end of this county have struck for higher wages. They declare they will permit no one to work until their demands are complied with. A number of special constables have been sworn in to protect the non-strikers.

HERE CONJECTURE

Location of Rival Fighting Fleets Is Apparently Lost For the Time.

RUMORS OF A BATTLE

Unconfirmed Statement That Adverse Fleets Have Already Joined Battle Gains no Credence.

Russian Admiralty as Much in Doubt of Rojestvensky's Plans as Anyone.

St. Petersburg, April 11.—Russia's information regarding Rojestvensky's fleet, its location, destination and intentions, is based solely on foreign dispatches which are all too meager to prevent a quick ripening crop of rumors, according to one of which the adverse fleets have already joined battle. Others of these dispatches are attempting to locate variously the battleship division of the squadron. The admiralty steadfastly professes its inability to impart any light or clarify the situation, and there is reason to believe the profession is made in good faith, at least as applies to all except the very highest officers.

The admiralty gives general credence to the report that the battleships are taking a southern route through the Sunda straits, the selection of the Singapore route being regarded as in the nature of a feint and to minimize the danger of a torpedo boat attack on the mainstays of the fleet.

Meanwhile events in Manchuria have come to a pause, and at home the main attention is being given to the work of the Bouligan commission, which is charged with formulating the plan for the representative assembly promised by the imperial rescript of March 3. The commission is meeting twice weekly and in private. The statement that the preliminary report of the commission will be ready before Easter is incorrect. The amount of material for its consideration is too great to permit of this. The chief problem is that of representation for governments where the semestov organization is not at present installed and election machinery is not available. The summary closing of the lawyers' congress in St. Petersburg yesterday in the midst of the opening session of what promised to be a repetition of the Moscow conference of doctors, manifests the firm hand with which Governor General Trepoft is managing the difficult situation.

HOSTILE FLEET

Will Be Observed by Representatives of Uncle Sam's Navy.

Washington, April 11.—Admiral Train, commander-in-chief of the Asiatic station, has cabled the navy department that he has dispatched the cruiser Raleigh which has been at Labuan and several torpedo boats to the island of Palawan to observe the movements of the hostile fleets which must pass through those waters. This direction was not given as the result of any special orders from the department, but under the broad instructions sent some months ago to the commander of the Asiatic station to take all proper steps to guard against any violation of neutrality by either belligerent in the Philippines. There is no dock in the Philippines large enough to handle any of the great Russian battleships, so that fortunately it will not be necessary for the state department to decide whether or not the Russian vessels can dock in our ports to clean their bottoms. The naval records show that there is a drydock at Saigon, 498 feet in length, which would accommodate the Russian ships, so that the French government is liable to be confronted with this question.

The French View of It.

Paris, April 11.—The authorities here are satisfied that the Russian second Pacific squadron will not seek to put into Saigon, French Cochinchina, as the shallow harbor does not permit of the entrance of deep-draught warships. The imminence of a naval battle arouses the keenest interest. M. Bernet, the naval critic of the Temps, is also of the opinion previously expressed in other quarters that Admiral Rojestvensky's plans inflicting losses equal to his own and thus reducing Japan's naval effective so that remaining Russian ships re-enforced by Admiral Nebogoroff's division of the second Pacific squadron from Jibuti (French Somaliland) will permit Russia to present an equal if not greater power than Japan.

New Minister to China Departs.

Washington, April 11.—W. W. Rockhill, newly appointed minister to China, with Mrs. Rockhill and his daughter, started from Washington today for San Francisco, whence he will sail on the 18th inst on the Manchuria for Yokohama. At this port he will transship for Shanghai and thence proceed to Peking.

Entire Square Burned.

Russell, Ky., April 11.—Fire destroyed the store room of Lynn and Gilley, the Bell Telephone Exchange and eight dwellings, covering one square in the center of town. Loss $35,000.

DISTINGUISHED HONORS

Are Paid Mr. Choate by British Lawyers.

London, April 11.—Ambassador Choate was last night elected “master of the bench of the middle temple.” Among English lawyers this is the most distinguished honor that they could confer on any outsider, and it is the first time in several generations that other than an English subject has been elected a member of the middle temple, one of the oldest inns of court in London.

This action calls Mr. Choate to the English bar and elects him member of the governing body of the middle temple. Five signers of the Declaration of Independence were members of the middle temple. Since then not a single American has been a member.

At a full meeting of templars last night Mr. Choate was elected unanimously on the proposal of Sir Ralph Littler, chairman of the Middlesex quarter sessions. When Mr. Choate's name was proposed another member moved that all standing rules and orders be suspended, and the greatest enthusiasm was shown when the ambassador was elected by unanimous vote.

HAYTI OBJECTS

If Powell Is Not Recalled He Will Get His Passports.

Washington, April 11.—Unless the United States immediately recalls William F. Powell, its minister to Hayti, that diplomat will get his passports. This is the ultimatum which the government at Port au Prince proposes to deliver to President Roosevelt.

Not only does it charge Mr. Powell with having injured its credit abroad by sending to the state department here a false report in regard to the internal situation in the republic, but it finds some peculiar circumstances connected with his protection of the Syrians which it considers worthy of investigation. Mr. Powell, Secretary Taft has been told by M. Leger, the Haitian minister, is offensive to his government and people, and his departure would be in the interest of good relations between the two countries.

Senator Clark Sued For Recovery.

Helena, Mont., April 11.—United States Judge Hunt has set for trial on June 16 the cases against R. M. Cobban and fifty-three others on charges of perjury and subornation of perjury in connection with extensive western Montana land frauds. The government alleges that Cobban induced the indicted persons to take up lands and then turn them over to him and that he in turn as an agent transferred them to Senator W. A. Clark. The government has also sued Senator Clark for recovery of the lands.

Kept Down Lynch Feeling.

Trinidad, Col., April 11.—Prompt action by the coroner's jury which held an inquest over the body of ex-Treasurer John H. Fox of Las Animas county, who was shot down in the post-office here last Saturday, has done much to allay the lynching sentiment. The jury rendered a verdict holding Deputy Sheriff Joe Johnson responsible on a charge of murder with felonious intent.

Fight With Outlaws.

Joplin, Mo., April 11.—William Weaver, president of the Anti-Horsechief Association of Missouri and Kansas, had a fight with a gang of outlaws at Carl Junction in which one member of the gang was killed and another badly injured. A large quantity of burglars' tools and dynamite was found in the men's possession. Three members of the gang escaped.

Serious Wreck on the Santa Fe.

Kansas City, April 11.—Twenty persons were injured by a train collision on the Santa Fe railroad at the station in Kinsley, Kan., at 10 o'clock last night.

Old Rappite Fort at New Harmony to Be Converted Into a Church.

A HISTORIC OBJECT

Fort Built For Protection of Settlers Was Probably Never Needed For That Purpose.

New Harmony, Ind., April 11.—Captain Frank Fitton, president of the Wabash Valley Improvement association of New Harmony, has sold the old fort of the Rappites to Captain John Corbin of this place for $1,200. For many years the old building has been used as a granary. Captain Corbin bought it for the M. E. congregation, and it will be converted into a church.

The old fort has long been a historic object in the New Harmony community, and one of the most revered relics left by the Rappites. Its massive walls, with their port-holes, have never failed to interest visitors. The exact age of the fort is not known, but it was put up soon after the Rappites founded New Harmony, which was in the early twenties. The common belief that it was built as a protection against the Indians is a mistake.

There were no Indians in the neighborhood of New Harmony at that time, except a prowling redskin from the reservation on the upper Wabash. The fort was built as a protection against backwoodsmen, settlers, trappers and hunters, who hated the Rappites for their thrift and exclusiveness. Moreover, the Revolutionary war was yet fresh in the minds of the people, and to the uncouth backwoodsmen all Germans were Hessians who had come over to fight for King George's troops against the colonies. It is not believed that the Rappites ever needed the protection of the fort, and that it served them always as a granary.

CHARGE AGAINST LAWYERS

Three Prominent Laporte Attorneys Held in Disbarment Proceedings.

Laporte, Ind., April 11.—Mayor Lemuel Darrow, City Attorney Wirt Worden and John W. Rabott, the last named of South Bend, attorneys at law, have been made defendants in disbarment proceedings filed in the Laporte circuit court by attorneys appointed by Judge J. C. Richter to prosecute the charges against the attorneys named.

The complaint is very long. It alleges that the accused lawyers willfully violated their duties as attorneys by conspiring, confederating and agreeing to deceive and mislead the circuit court in a criminal case recently tried here. The attorneys are cited to appear Monday, April 17, in court, and to show cause why they should not be disbarred from the practice of law.

Heavy Fire Loss at Knightstown.

Knightstown, Ind., April 11.—The most destructive fire that has visited this city in recent years broke out in the drygoods and clothing store owned by George W. Williams & Co., and before the flames could be gotten under control the Williams store was completely destroyed, with every dollar's worth of its contents, and the wholesale grocery of A. O. Morris adjoining it on the east, was ruined, with practically all the contents of its three floors in ashes. The total loss will reach $100,000, with less than half that amount of insurance.

Deadly Use of Coal Oil.

Logansport, Ind., April 11.—By committing the common but oftentimes fatal mistake of pouring coal oil into a stove to start a fire, Mrs. Ada Hare, wife of William Hare, a well-known horse buyer, sustained injuries in an explosion which resulted in death.

The woman was alone at her home when the accident occurred and rushed from the house into the yard, where the wind fanned the flames, which had caught and completely enveloped her. Her body was burned almost to a crisp and she died in terrible agony.

Tried to "Shoot Up" Town.

Lafayette, Ind., April 11.—Charles Adams, aged thirty years shot and seriously injured Patrolman Carr at Sixth and Main streets. In true Wild West style Adams began to "shoot up" the town, and he frightened hundreds of people in Main street. Bullets were sent in all directions and windows were broken. A bullet went through the hat of William Florer, ticket agent for the Monon railway here. After he was shot Patrolman Carr brought Adams to a state of subjection by the vigorous use of his club.

Susan Collidge Dead.

Newport, R. I., April 11.—Miss Sarah Chaucey Woolsey, better known as "Susan Collidge," a writer of children's stories, is dead of heart disease at her home here. Her best known work was the "Katy-Did Series." She was seventy years of age and was born in Cleveland, Ohio.

Run Down at Last.

Lexington, Ky., April 10.—After being hunted for a week, Anse White was captured by one of the five special bailiffs sent to Breathitt county Sunday. He is an important witness for the commonwealth in the cases of the Hargis brothers and Ed Callahan, who are to be tried here on the charge of complicity in the murder of James Cockrill at Jackson. His absence has caused three postponements of the trial. He was brought here today and the cases will be held tomorrow.

A NEW LEAD

Has Been Opened Up in the Deaf Trust Hearing.

Chicago, April 11.—The contents of eight mysterious trunks unearthed by government secret service men in the vaults of the National Safe Deposit company, is occupying the attention of the federal grand jury, which is investigating the business affairs of the so-called beef trust. A subpoena duces tecum for Daniel Peckham, secretary of the depository company, was issued by Judge Landis to force the company to produce the trunks in the jury room. The trunks were taken to the office of District Attorney Morrison, where it is said they were opened and their contents examined.

As to what the trunks contain and what their connection with the present investigation may be is unknown to those outside of the jury room.

Cripple Creek Cases Dropped.

Cripple Creek, Col., April 11.—District Attorney Clarence C. Hamlin has nolleed the cases of the people versus Nelson Franklin and forty-six other prominent citizens of Cripple Creek district, who were charged with the deportation of certain persons Aug. 20 last, and prior to that time, and with looting and prior stores. Mr. Hamlin said the cases had already caused an expense of nearly $5,000, and in his opinion there was small chance of obtaining a conviction if they should be tried. Unavailing efforts to secure a jury in the first of these cases have been made during the last week.

It is reported that Col. Frank B. Posey, who retired from the race for congress in the First district is to be appointed to a good paying position in Alaska. He is worthy of a good place and besides he has the ability to fill it well.

FRED L. GEMMER, of Williamport, has succeeded Union B. Hunt as Governor Hanly's private secretary. He has been in the banking business and is a thoroughly capable man. Mr. Hunt retires to take a place on the state railroad commission.

CAPITAL CITY POLITICS

Bookwalter Is Being Groomed for Another Race for Mayor.

Indianapolis, April 10.—Ex-Mayor Charles A. Bookwalter is coming up strong as a candidate for re-nomination. Bookwalter does not seem to have lost a great deal of caste among his followers aside from a few disgruntled ones who are looking for a good place to land, and it is believed that many members of his own party who voted and worked against him two years ago now have a sneaking feeling that perhaps there was not sufficient reason for giving him the raw end of the deal. At any rate those who have made a careful investigation of the situation with a view to learning who would be the strongest candidate have found a more kindly feeling toward Bookwalter than they expected, and they are inclined to the opinion that he will be a more powerful candidate than ever before. The fact that certain of Bookwalter's former lieutenants seem to have cut him cold will also help him with hundreds of men who knifed him in the last contest. Although the nominations will not be made for several weeks, the way things are shaping up now Bookwalter stands an excellent chance of being renominated.

The radical Bryan element, which seems to be in the ascendancy in the Democratic party in this state, will it is now generally believed, attempt to secure control of the reorganization. That this may happen is indicated by the undercurrent of opposition to the re-election of Senator W. H. O'Brien of Lawrenceburg for state chairman. The latter is well liked personally and the overwhelming defeat last fall is not attributed to mismanagement on his part, but there is a feeling in many localities that the time has come for new blood to take hold. In the same way the services of Taggart are appreciated generally, but many party leaders express themselves freely that there ought to be new generalship. The welfare of the party, they declare, demands it and they will make a fight for it if necessary. So far no new Richmond with sufficient following to unseat the old crowd has entered the field. Adam Heimberger of New Albany and Michael Sweeney of Dubois county are prospective candidates for state chairman, but they do not have sufficient following to overthrow the present management if it desires to hold on. There is a big element waiting for a leader, however, that properly handled will give a good account of itself, but it is not evident just now what turn affairs will take.

It is said that James L. Keach is about to retire as chairman of the Democratic city committee. Keach was ambitious to run the organization in one campaign and demonstrate that the Democrats under new management could win out and, having succeeded, it is declared that he is anxious to retire. If he is not at the helm it is admitted that Mayor Holtzman will not be as formidable, for his success was largely due to the skillful handling of the reins by Keach. It is doubtful if any other man in his party could do as well, as he had peculiar qualifications to meet every phase of the situation as rapidly as it developed. The Taggart forces have not indicated who they want for chairman, but there is no sign of a conflict thus far. Mayor Holtzman is to be renominated by acclamation. He thinks he can win no matter who the Republicans nominate. He will make the race on his record in office, which is in his favor, as it is generally admitted that his administration has been one of the best the city has had in recent years. It is not probable the Democrats will hold their convention before mid-summer, but preliminary arrangements for the campaign are now being made.

Friends of William H. Guhl of Clay City are becoming active in behalf of his candidacy for the Republican nomination for congress in the Fifth district. They have called a meeting for next Saturday at Clay City to start an organization. Every county in the district is expected to be represented. Guhl, it is said, intends to make a hot fight right from the start. It was reported today that State Senator Jendee of Anderson has decided to become a candidate against Congressman Cromer for the Republican nomination in the Eighth.

IN IDAHO.

Jackson County Man Writes Of That Far Western State.

Parma, Idaho, April 5th, 1905.

Editor REPUBLICAN:—
Thinking that you and the readers of the REPUBLICAN might be interested in a letter telling something of this country, I have concluded to write you. I left Seymour on election day last November after voting for Roosevelt and Fairbanks. I first went to Bloomington, Illinois, where I remained until the following Saturday when I started for this place, reaching here November 20th.

Parma is a village of about 300 population, composed largely of eastern people. We are in the southwestern part of Idaho on the Boise River seven miles from where it empties into the Snake river. Five years ago this village consisted of a post-office and a small store. Now it has one of the largest stores in the state and other mercantile establishments, two blacksmith shops, two lumber yards, the best equipped creamery in the north-west, a state bank and a newspaper, the Parma Herald. All these enterprises are prospering. The Boise Valley is one of the richest in the northwest.

On either side of the town is an irrigation system, which supplies water to the land. Immense crops of alfalfa, red clover, timothy and all kinds of grasses, wheat and oats, fruits of various kinds, such as apples, peaches, pears, and all such fruits grow in abundance. The country being new the fruit trees are not large, but they produce well. One man netted $1145 off of four acres of apples and the trees have only been out seven years. From five to nine tons of hay are grown to the acre, from sixty to one hundred bushels of wheat. The hay brings $4 per ton. Oats 43 cents per bushel and wheat 80 cents.

The winters here are mild, the thermometer registering zero but once last winter. Only one or two days was there wind enough to tell from which direction it came. Land values in this locality run from $20 to $150 per acre. What is called sage brush land can be cleared and leveled for irrigating at an expense of about $15 per acre, making the total cost ready for crops, about $35 per acre. The price ranges according to improvements, water rights, distance from town, etc. Recently a man from Illinois paid $6,000 for forty acres, but this land made for the owner last year about $1200 and he made this with out hiring help. These few facts will give my friends in Jackson County some idea of this country. With best wishes I am

Yours truly,
JOHN L. WASKOM.

"Here is a letter," said Mr. Peter of the W. F. Peter Drug Co., "that ought to interest every woman in Seymour. You seldom read anything more sincere or to the point."
"I have used four large bottles of Mucu-Tone and what it has done for me is wonderful. I was all run down, had no appetite, and female trouble and ovarian trouble bad. Since I have taken Mucu-Tone I have not had a doctor, but before I had four doctors and none seemed to give me any relief. I think it was a blessing when I received my first bottle of Mucu-Tone. I have had several of my friends try it and it has done them good. My husband says he will not be without it."
"I hope this will help another sufferer like I was. You can use my letter if you wish. Mrs. W. J. Brandenburg, Akron, Ohio."

NEW MAYOR'S TASK

Teamsters' Strike at Chicago Engages Attention of New City Executive.

WANTS TO ARBITRATE

Mayor Dunne Who Entered on His Official Duties Today Seeks Amicable Settlement of Trouble.

The Strike Has Now Extended to Express Drivers and Big Firm's Troubles Are Doubled.

Chicago, April 10.—A determined effort to settle by arbitration the strike of the garment workers and the teamsters' employed by Montgomery Ward & Co., is being made.

Judge Edward F. Dunne, who today assumed the office of Mayor of Chicago, stated that one of his first official acts will be to endeavor to bring about an amicable adjustment of the difficulty. Mayor Dunne's idea is to get both sides to the controversy to gether and appoint a committee to arbitrate the trouble.

While peace plans are being considered the local unions of the express drivers throughout the city have decided to refuse to handle any goods belonging to the firm of Montgomery Ward & Co. The troubles of the big concern were therefore doubled today when they endeavored to transfer their goods to the different railroad freight sheds in the city. The employers, however, declare that they have enough non-union help on hand to take care of all the wagons that will be needed.

COATHING CRITICISM

Young Rockefeller Gets Stinging Remarks From Dr. Hillis.

New York, April 10.—In the course of his sermon in Plymouth church, Brooklyn Sunday, the Rev. Dr. Newell Dwight Hillis, referred to the gift of $100,000 made by John D. Rockefeller to the American board of foreign missions and to Mr. Rockefeller's son. He said in part: "The saddest words that have been written in this generation were spoken before Brown university by a young man who is to inherit one of the greatest fortunes in this country. They were spoken in defense of the trusts. Listen to them: "The American beauty rose can be produced in all its splendor only by sacrificing the early buds that grow up around it."

"The rose has one thousand buds and in order to produce the American beauty the gardener goes around it with a knife and snips 999, in order that all the strength and beauty may be forced into one bloom. In his economic argument this young man tells the working classes brutally that 999 small business men must be snuffed out of existence in order that his American beauty, the trust, may be produced. Listen to Christ: 'Let the strong bear the burdens of the weak,' and again 'Give and it shall be given unto you.'

"These words in defense of the trusts are the most heart breaking things in literature to those who know what is going to come in the future. Can you wonder that after that, when a man gives gifts, we have no gratitude to return."

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube be restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free.

PROBABLE SUICIDE.

Peculiar Circumstances Surrounding Death of Young Man Near Freetown.

Monday John Brown, residing with his father four miles north of Freetown, went to Brownstown with a load of wood. He delivered the wood and transacted what other business he had to do, starting home between four and five o'clock.

About half way between Brownstown and Freetown some parties met the team in the road but observed no driver. The lines were wrapped around a standard and the horses were walking leisurely homeward. This situation caused the parties that met the wagon to stop the team and investigate. They found the young man lying in the bottom of the wagon bed with his head resting on a bag of seeds that had been purchased at town. A revolver was in his right hand and a hasty examination revealed a bullet wound in line with his heart. The young man only breathed once or twice after he was found in the wagon.

The body was taken on to Freetown and later on to his home. Circumstances point to suicide, yet it may be possible that he was handling the revolver for some purpose and that it was accidentally discharged. If it was a case of suicide no one knows any reason for it.

John Brown was a young man about 25 years of age, of good habits and had many friends. He was unmarried.

The display of lightning on the switchboard gave the girls quite a scare. It will be three or four days before the telephones are all repaired. No other damage of consequence has been reported.
